Technical college hosting plant sale

The 27th Annual Spring Plant Sale at Lake Washington Technical College (LWTC) will run consecutive weekends April 25 and 26 and again on May 2 and 3 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. all four days in the school's west parking lot.

The sale is open to the public and held every year by LWTC's Environmental Horticulture program students.

"All of the plants are grown by the students," said Don Marshall, longtime LWTC Environmental Horticultural instructor. "You will immediately see that these are great quality plants that have really been looked after and cared for by the students."

Plants available at the sale include: fuchsia baskets, geraniums, color baskets, bedding plants, perennials, nursery stock and herbs.

In addition, a wide variety of landscape plants, shrubs and trees will be available from Northwest Nurseries, a local wholesale nursery. All proceeds from the Northwest Nurseries sales will go to the Jim Colman Horticultural Scholarship, established in honor and memory of Jim Colman, founder of Northwest Nurseries.
